(1) Wages and salaries: Gross wages and salaries before income tax, pensions and Employment Insurance. Included in this source are military pay and allowances, tips, commissions and cash bonuses, benefits from wage-loss replacement plans or income-maintenance insurance plans, as well as all types of casual earnings during calendar year preceding the census.

(2) Self-employed income: Net income (gross receipts minus costs of operations) received during the calendar year preceding the census from an unincorporated farm or non-farm business or professional practice.

(3) Government transfer payments: Total income from all government transfers paid out by all federal, provincial and municipal governments during the year preceding the census. Transfers include the following: (i) Old Age Security Pensions and Guaranteed Income Supplements; (ii) Quebec and Canada Pension Plan benefits; (iii) Employment insurance benefits; (iv) family allowances; (v) federal child tax credits; and (vi) other income from government sources.

(4) Other income: Private retirement pensions and private annuities, and other cash income. Includes investment income where the percentage of total income (%) is examined.

Notes: Totals may not balance as a result of rounding, or for Quebec as a whole, depending on the type of questionnaire (long or short) used in the census, since the weighting process can influence the total slightly.
(1) Not applicable category includes persons outside economic activity sectors but not officially unemployed, that is, retired persons, dependants, students, welfare recipients, etc.
(2) Undetermined category consists of persons for whom the economic activity sector (primary, secondary, tertiary) could not be determined.
(3) Related services include only part of the tertiary sector of this industry. From 2001 and on, fishery-related services are included in other industry groups.

Notes: Totals may not balance as a result of rounding, or for Quebec as a whole, depending on the type of questionnaire (long or short) used in the census, since the weighting process can influence the total slightly.
(1) Employed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) did any work at all, excluding housework or other maintenance or repairs around home and volunteer work, or (b) were absent from their job or business because of a vacation, an illness, a labour dispute at their place of work, or any other reasons.
Unemployed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) were without work, but had actively looked for work in the past four weeks and were available for work, or (b) were on temporary lay-off and expected to return to their job, or (c) had definite arrangements to start a new job in the next four weeks.
(2) Labour force: persons who were either employed or unemployed during the week prior to Census Day.
Not in the Labour Force: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day, were unwilling or unable to supply their labour services under conditions prevailing in the labour market. This group includes mainly students, homemakers, retired workers, seasonal workers in an off season, and persons who could not work because of a long-term illness or disability.
(3) Experienced labour force: experienced labour force is derived by removing from the labour force unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.
Inexperienced labour force: unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.

Notes: Totals may not balance as a result of rounding, or for Quebec as a whole, depending on the type of questionnaire (long or short) used in the census, since the weighting process can influence the total slightly.
(1) Employed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) did any work at all, excluding housework or other maintenance or repairs around home and volunteer work, or (b) were absent from their job or business because of a vacation, an illness, a labour dispute at their place of work, or any other reasons.
Unemployed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) were without work, but had actively looked for work in the past four weeks and were available for work, or (b) were on temporary layoff and expected to return to their job, or (c) had definite arrangements to start a new job in the next four weeks.
(2) Labour force: persons who were either employed or unemployed during the week prior to Census Day.
Not in the Labour Force: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day, were unwilling or unable to supply their labour services under conditions prevailing in the labour market. This group includes mainly students, homemakers, retired workers, seasonal workers in an 'off' season, and persons who could not work because of a long-term illness or disability.
(3) Experienced labour force: experienced labour force is derived by removing from the labour force unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.
Inexperienced labour force: unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.

Notes: Totals may not balance as a result of rounding, or for Quebec as a whole, depending on the type of questionnaire (long or short) used in the census, since the weighting process can influence the total slightly.
(1) Employed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) did any work at all, excluding housework or other maintenance or require around home and volunteer work, or (b) were absent from their job or business because of a vacation, an illness, a labour dispute at their place of work, or any other reasons.
Unemployed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) were without work, but had actively looked for work in the past four weeks and were available for work, or (b) were on temporary lay-off and expected to return to their job, or (c) had definite arrangements to start a new job in the next four weeks.
(2) Labour force: persons who were either employed or unemployed during the week prior to Census Day.
Not in the Labour Force: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day, were unwilling or unable to supply their labour services under conditions prevailing in the labour market. This group includes mainly students, homemakers, retired workers, seasonal workers in an off season, and persons who could not work because of a long-term illness or disability.
(3) Experienced labour force: experienced labour force is derived by removing from the labour force unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.
Inexperienced labour force: unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.

Notes: Totals may not balance as a result of rounding, or for Québec as a whole, depending on the type of questionnaire (long or short) used in the census, since the weighting process can influence the total slightly.
(1) Employed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) did any work at all, excluding housework or other maintenance or repairs around home and volunteer work, or (b) were absent from their job or business because of a vacation, an illness, a labour dispute at their place of work, or any other reason.
Unemployed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) were without work, but had actively looked for work in the past four weeks and were available for work, or (b) were on temporary lay-off and expected to return to their job, or (c) had definite arrangements to start a new job in the next four weeks.
(2) Labour force: persons who were either employed or unemployed during the week prior to Census Day.
Not in the Labour Force: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day, were unwilling or unable to supply their labour services under conditions prevailing in the labour market. This group includes mainly students, homemakers, retired workers, seasonal workers in an off season, and persons who could not work because of a long-term illness or disability.
(3) Experienced labour force: experienced labour force is derived by removing from the labour force unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.
Inexperienced labour force: unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.

Notes: Totals may not balance as a result of rounding, or for Quebec as a whole, depending on the type of questionnaire (long or short) used in the census, since the weighting process can influence the total slightly.

(1) Employed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) did any work at all, excluding housework or other maintenance or repairs around home and volunteer work, or (b) were absent from their job or business because of a vacation, an illness, a labour dispute at their place of work, or any other reasons.
Unemployed: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day (a) were without work, but had actively looked for work in the past four weeks and were available for work, or (b) were on temporary lay-off and expected to return to their job, or (c) had definite arrangements to start a new job in the next four weeks.

(2) Labour force: persons who were either employed or unemployed during the week prior to Census Day.
Not in the Labour Force: persons who, during the week prior to Census Day, were unwilling or unable to supply their labour services under conditions prevailing in the labour market. This group includes mainly students, homemakers, retired workers, seasonal workers in an off season, and persons who could not work because of a long-term illness or disability.

(3) Experienced labour force: experienced labour force is derived by removing from the labour force unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.
Inexperienced labour force: unemployed persons 15 years of age and over who have never worked or who worked only prior to January 1st of the year prior to Census Day.

Notes:
(1) Data are based on the landing harbour.
(2) Active boat status denotes that a vessel has made at least one landing.
(3) Sum of columns may not be equal to the total displayed as a vessel can be active in more than one sector.
